10 Feb., 1962.

Dear Mrs. Lapp:

Like you, I am up to my neck in correspondence, research, and all the other things that go with a person with an aim. In addition, I am up to my neck in an influenza epidemic--and I have had it myself, into the bargain. I like to refer to epidemics as my harvest. That's a queer kind of humor!

I note that it is almost a month since you wrote. I should have answered before, but your letter was mislaid. I have a desk, two tables and a large counter in my den, and all are covered with papers. Once in a while, when I am out, my wife gets in and piles everything in one large heap. All my systematic disorderliness is gone, and so are papers which should have been answered or filed. And so it goes--I am in one round of search, search, search--find, then look again.

Thank you for the note on Isaac Brisco. It will be a help, but it would be nice to have the complete story. When I was in Montpelier several years ago, I found a good deal, as you may know, particularly that note as to the things which Mrs. Brisco could take with her. I was more fortunate with my own ancestor, Daniel Barker. I found the sale of his 200 acre farm, his gravestone, and the cost to his estate of an illness he suffered whilst on a flag.

By the way, here is something which I may not have given you. In New York Public Library I came across more Claims Commission papers than I have come across in Canada. This particular one, Vol. 11, is "Reports on Claims Liquidated." With respect to Isaac Brisco of Vermont, it contains:

Amount claimed	$ 1046.00
" allowed	710.00
" " on provision	1735.00

I simply must see the Fitch MSS. It should be full of information about many Loyalist families, all of which are of interest to me. Which reminds me, if you ever come across and Livingston Papers of Schuyler Papers of the Revolutionary period, please let me know. Both Livingston and Schuyler were landowners in the Saratoga District for years before the Revolution, as well as during and after. I have several publications of the Washington County Historical Society. They deal with the Scots settlement in Argyle Town, and give a most interesting picture of the reaction of the settlers to the advance of Pargoyne, particularly with the death of Jane McGree. There are also

Some Chapters in the History of the Town of Easton.

The Gibson Papers, 3 vols., dealing with old families.

These towns, naturally, are not in your particularly territory, but much can be gleaned of conditions in 1777-83.

I wish that you lived nearer, as we need intelligent, active people in the VEL to advise regarding the proposed museum. Perhaps you should visit us before it opens, as we hope, in May or June. If all goes well it should be very edifying. We propose to show by maps, with genuine articles to accompany each, the making of a Loyalist, his part in the revolution, his sacrifices, his journey to the new settlements, the development of a new Zion, schools, farming, political, arms and implements, treatment of his diseases, etc., etc., etc. It should be worth seeing.

In the meantime, if you find anything from Vt., it will be appreciated.

Sincerely,

ISAAC BRISCO'S PROPERTIES

State Papers of Vt., Vol.VI ed. Kye, Mary Green, 1941. Vol.VI is Sequestration, Confiscation and Sale of Estates.

p.402 ?(not sure of this page) has certificate of Sherman Boardman who bought for £500 land in Sunderland which had been Isaac Brisco's, 150 acres, Arlington, Dec. 6, 1779.

p.402 Certificate of Thos. Chittenden who got most of Jehiel Hawley's property and some of Brisco's. # 29 and 30 "was property of Isaac Briscoe Late of Sd (?) Arlington and by him forfeited (sic) and Confiscated as aforesd for which I have paid the Sd John Fasset the sum of three Thousand Pounds and no more." Arlington 10th June 1779. Signed Tho^s Chittendon.

p.38 "An Act to prevent the return to this state of certain persons..who have left..and joined the enemies". List includes Isaac Brisco, Sam Rose, Jos. Lockwood of Manchester; David Castle and Reuben Hawley of Paulet; David Shorey, Rob't. Perry of Rutland; Dan^r Hill Jr. and Timothy Hill; Justus Sherwood, N.Haven. If these or any others return they must go before a J.P., "be whipped on the naked Back, not more than forty, nor less than twenty stripes" punishment inflicted and ordered to quit the state immediately. Further if such a person should continue to stay one month or return again after such conviction he shall be convicted before the Supreme Court of State and put to Death. If any person should barbour or conceal..he must pay £500, 2/3 to State, 1/3 to the prosecutor.

p.40 An act for the purpose of removing disaffected persons from the frontiers of this state, Oct. 13, 1780. (Frontiers defined included Arlington and Sandgate.)

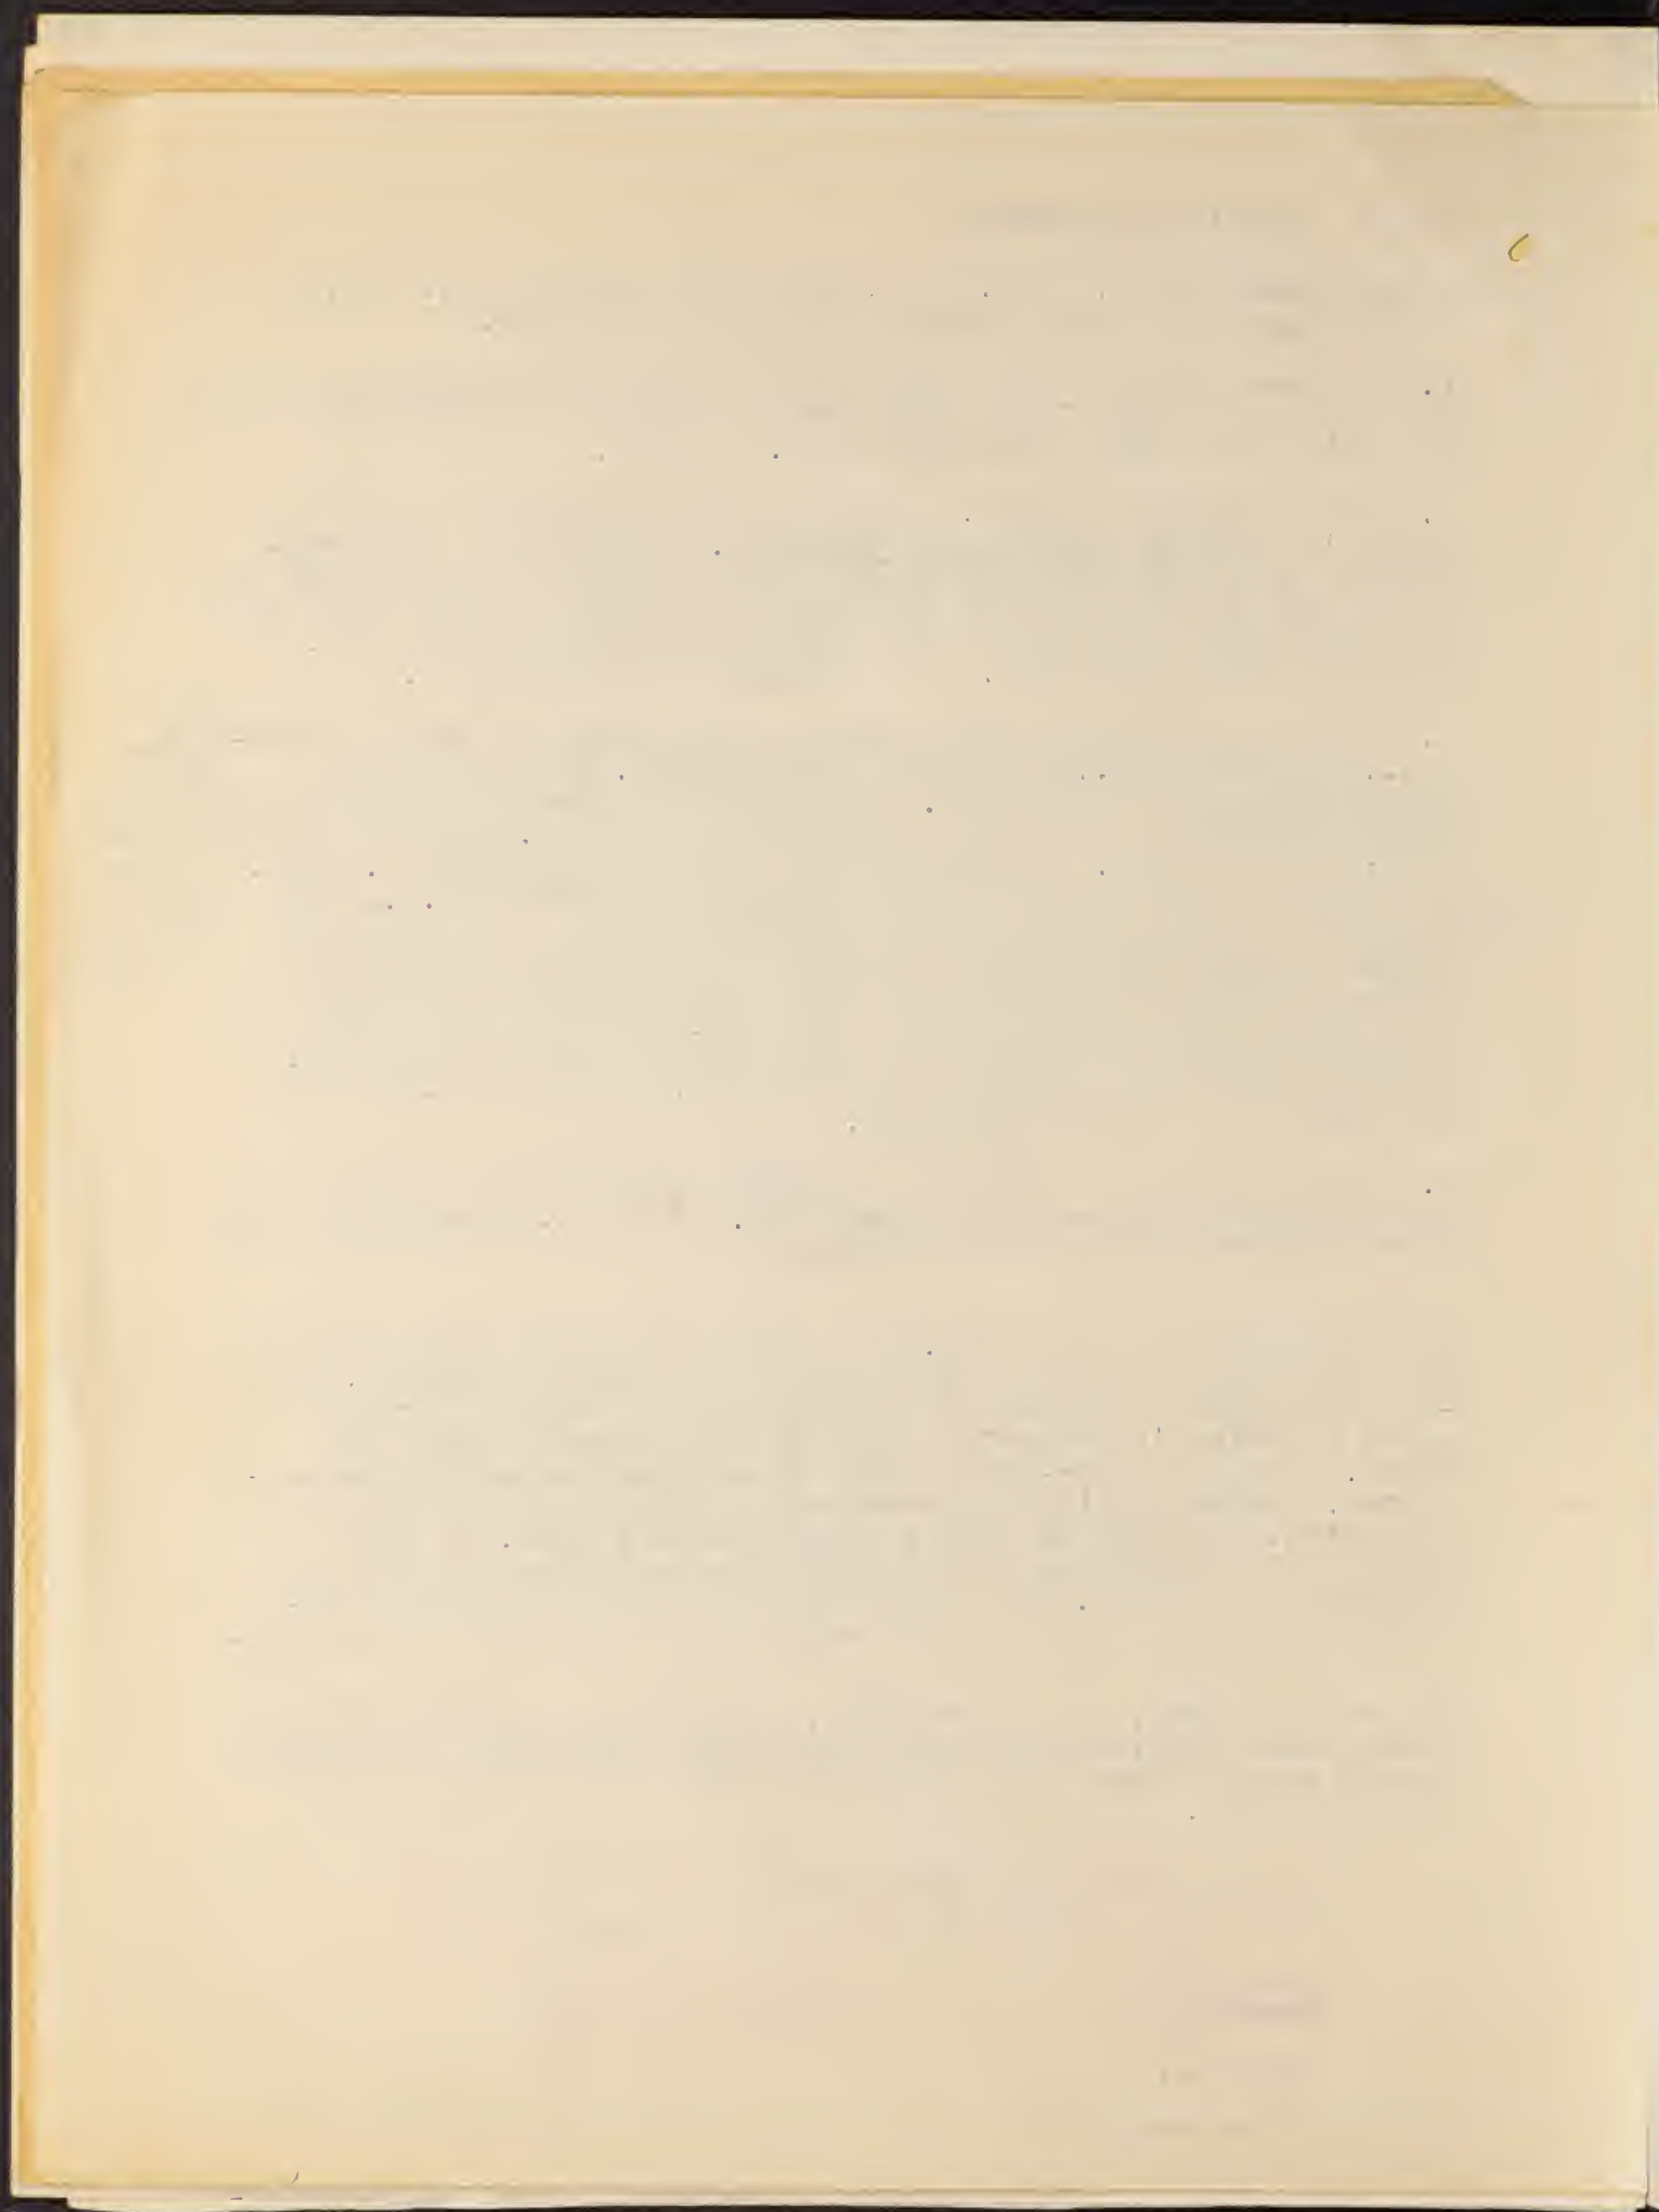

Note:In my letter of 12 Jan.1962, there was a quotation from the same volume, sent me by the State Librarian in Albany. The £800 mentioned there as having been paid by Bordman for 113 acres of Brisco's property, must include the £500 mentioned above. I say it must--but perhaps not, since Sunderland is mentioned. Sunderland is less than two miles north and east of Arlington. It could be what is now East Arlington. (I have checked this on a large-scale map and both Sunderland and East Arlington are shown.) If these quotations refer to three separate deals, that accounts for £4300 paid for Brisco properties.

In the old deeds, on a quick look, I see no lot numbers for the Sunderland property, but perhaps you can figure this out better than I can, to determine what percentage of his land we have accounted for.

Dear Dr. Burleigh,

The enclosed sheet re Briscoes came from a correspondent recently. She is Mrs. Carleton Craig. She spends summers in Brookfield, Vermont 15036, and winters in the Eastern Townships. Her address there is Hatley-2, R.R. 3, Ayer's Cliff, P.Q. I may have mentioned her--or you may have heard from her. At any rate she sent two copies of this sheet and said one was to send on to you, if I thought you would be interested.

The main news from it is that Isaac Brisco did not go from Newtown, Conn. to Arlington, Vt., but from Milford, Conn. And in this and her last letter, she has dispelled any doubt I had that Isaac married Ruth Hawley. (The doubt having arisen from the data in Montpelier which gave another marriage for Ruth Hawley, you may recall.)

Mrs. Craig said she hoped to visit Prescott this April--and might go on to Bay of Quinte. She is chiefly interested now in Samuel Adams of Arlington. This is Dr. Adams who settled in Johnstown. She may be writing you about him.

I hope you are well. I had hoped to get down to one UEL meeting when you were speaking. But too much going on, and I had a beastly flu bug for a month this winter. How are your loyalist biographies coming? Would so enjoy hearing about them!

Yours sincerely,

Eula C. Lapp.

Huge meeting of Toronto Branch Ontario Genealogical Society last night. If it gets much larger it will have to be divided.

You never know where you are going, unless you remember where you have been. What you do in the future is benefitted by the mistakes made in your past.

Isaac, in 1779, called old man. If born 1739 he was only 40, so why called old, unless he was then 50 yrs of age.

Dear Dr. Burleigh,

How are you these days? Have not heard of you for a long time.

The other day I received some information you asked me for several years ago. I wonder if you have it? The parents of Isaac Brisco.

Mrs. L. Mortimer Lewis, 3334 E. Michigan Ave., Galesburg, Mich. 49053, after reading my book, sent me a veritable tome of handwritten stuff, addressing me as "Dear Cousin"! Don't know her from Adam. She says you asked her years ago for this information, but she never sent it because she could not be sure.

Reading through this volume again, I see that she is still not completely certain whether his parents were Samuel and Abigail Platt Or Nathaniel and Ruth Smith. I am descended from Nabby Briscoe who married Luke Carscallen; she from Ann Briscoe who married Duncan Bell. (Ann and Nabby sisters)

She says she has spent longer on the Briscoes than on any other family--and she claims to have her Brown ancestors literally "back to Adam"! I kidded her about this remark and she came right back to say, "yes literally", which of course makes me cast some doubt on the rest of her data, which looks to be well researched.

Studying this further, I think I favor Nathaniel for the father of Isaac Briscoe. Mrs. Lewis thought so at first; then she found the reference to Samuel which seemed to fit--until recently she discovered ~~Barbara's~~ Index (what is this?): "Isaac Briscoe (s. of Samuel) b 2-5-1729/30 Mil. U.R. Vol. I, p. 84, and under it Isaac Briscoe d 6-26-1812, Newtown U.R., Vol. II, p. 161... That upset the applecart". She means, of course, since our Isaac died in Canada.

The Lt. Nathaniel who then seems to have been his father was a son of James Briscoe and Elizabeth Adams and married the Widow Eunice Hurd Johnson. This record says Isaac Briscoe married Anna Sherman of Newtown, Conn. And Mrs. Lewis says she decided she was his first wife and Ruth Hawley the second, although Ruth never mentioned. This was from a History of Newtown written by a Johnson. My theory is that Isaac's second wife was Ruth Hawley and ~~she was~~ the only wife he had in Arlington. The children of Isaac, listed by Mrs. Lewis, were all born after they moved to Arlington: Norris 1763; Nabby 1765; Ann ca 1767; Nathan 1769; and Cornelius ?

Perhaps you have all this long ago. I'll not copy more now. I am trying to get my own files in order this month. But if you wish more of this mountain of material later, let me know.

My book is still selling surprisingly well! But I am looking forward to being through with the "business" end of it! I have corrected by hand about 400 copies now; the early ones, like yours, were not done properly, for which I am sorry. Stock getting low now. Sincerely,

Eula C. Lapp
PTO

PS: I should at least point out one serious error in my book--and this one was my fault, not the printers*. I can only plead that I had to get the illustrations much too quickly at the end. It is the caption under Thomas Carscallen (my own family too!) after page 222. I have put in an extra generation. He was of course a son of Isaac, not Isaac Newton (my grandfather).

CAMP

Edward Camp, b. abt. 1622, was fined for being late at training, 6 Sept., 1643; took the oath of fidelity, 1 July, 1644; remained in New Haven; was granted land at Chestnut Hill, May, 1650; hence was one of the first settlers in what is now Woodbridge. He was residuary heir with Ralph Lines and Robert Meeker under the nuncupative will of John Bishop of New Haven in 1651. (New Haven, Conn.) He died, before 4 Oct., 1659, when an imperfect inventory of his estate was presented; a second inventory was presented 1 Nov., 1659.

His wife was Mary Hine, sister of Thomas Hine of Milford, whose will made provision for his sister, Mary Hine. She married 2nd, 4 Apr. 1662, John Lane of Milford, being called "widow Camp that lived at Chestnut Hill." He was a widower with a son Isaac and dau. Sarah, wife of Jobarnah Gunn. Lane's will, dated 11 Sept., 1669, made bequests to his son-in-law (stepson) Samuel and Edward Camp and dau.-in-law Mary Camp; the codicil written the following day made a bequest to his dau.-in-law, Mercy Baldwin; son Isaac Lane and son-in-law Jobarnah Gunn; bro. William East.

Mary Lane d. 1680-1; in her will dated 22 Feb., 1680⁽¹⁾, named her sons, Samuel and Edward Camp, daus. Mercy Baldwin, Mary Briscoe, and Mahitabel Camp (the last, wife of Edward); dau.-in-law (step dau.) Sarah Gunn, and son-in-law Jobarnah Gunn. She made Brother Canfield and John Fiske overseers of her will. The term "Brother" prob. use in church sense, though she may have been related to Canfield or his wife, Phoebe.

Isaac Brisco, a pioneer Loyalist settler in Ernesttown Township in the summer of 1784, was the sixth generation of Brisco family in America. The first was Nathaniel Brisco or Brice, as the name was known in the early days in America who was born in Little Missenden, Bucks, Eng. He was son of Edward, born in 1569, grandson of John, born about 1545 and great grandson of Edward, 1525-1653 all of the same British parish.

Nathaniel Brisco, the first in America, was born in Amersham England in 1595. He married Elizabeth Honor, and emigrated in 1633. They settled in Watertown, Mass., where he was known as a rich tanner. He served as selectman in Watertown in 1650, Shortly thereafter his house was burned and his son Nathaniel was mistreated at Harvard University. It was then in 1652 or 1653 that he returned to England. His wife had died in Watertown in 1642 and his children, already fully grown, remained in America.

FIRST METHODIST CLASS.

John Laurence, who had married the widow of Philip Embury, John Dulmage, whose wife was a sister of Paul Heck, and Samuel Embury, a son of Philip, and Paul and Barbara Heck, settled in Augusta Township, not far from Prescott. There they formed the first Methodist class in Upper Canada, with Samuel Embury as leader. Thus began the Methodism of the St. Lawrence valley. They all sleep in the old Blue Church burying-ground near Prescott, on the shores of the St. Lawrence.

We have referred to Philip Embury's son Samuel as the leader of the first class in Canada. His wife was Catharine Miller, daughter of one of the Irish Palatines. She died at St. Ormand, Que., in 1853, aged 68. There were 12 children in the family. Philip's daughter, Catharine, married Duncan Fisher, of Montreal, and among the grandchildren and great-grandchildren were many who are pillars of the Methodist church in that city. I need mention only Mr. John Torrance, who is the great-great-grandchild of Philip Embury.

Paul and Barbara Heck had two sons--Samuel, an honoured preacher in the early days, and Jacob, who married Miss Shorts, daughter of a pioneer Methodist, Rev. Augustus Shorts, who traced back to the Swiss Menonites on his father's side, and whose mother was an Irish Palatine, Rosanna Monk. (or Mouk)

John Dulmage, as already stated, was married to Paul Heck's sister. Their daughter married Rev. Samuel Coats, who built the first Methodist chapel in Montreal, in 1809. It may be worth recording that among the great-grandchildren of John Dulmage is the wife of the present provost of Trinity University, Toronto.

David Embury, Fredericksburgh, was a brother of Philip. He had two sons, Andrew and John, the former of whom married a Miss Bell, a loyalist from Argyle, the Scotch-Irish region adjacent to Ashgrove, and the latter married a daughter of Valentine Detlor. The Emburys belonged to the first class formed by Rev. W. Losee at Paul Huff's in Adolphustown, in 1791, and assisted in the erection of the first Methodist church in the Province--the building stands to-day on the shores of Bay Bay. It was at a Methodist gathering in Andrew Embury's house that Rev. Dr. Wellington Jeffers preached his trial sermon, with Rev. Isaac Green as presiding minister. (written about 1902)

BLUE CHURCH.

The Blue Church (Methodist) situated on the front road between Brockville and Prescott, narrowly escaped destruction by fire on Sunday, April 19th. The Blue Church possesses much historical interest, especially to Methodists. The first church was erected on the site fully one hundred years ago, and the present building is also very old. In the cemetery which surrounds it are interred the remains of Barbara Heck, who with her husband were the founders of Methodism in Canada. They came to the township of Augusta in 1785, settling on lot No. 4, con. 3. Barbara died in 1804. (written about 1903)

Isaac Brisco, a pioneer Loyalist settler in Ernestown Township, on the Bay of Quinte, in the summer of 1784, was the sixth generation of his family in America. The first to come was Nathaniel, who, although he was born in Amersham, Buckinghamshire, England, his forebears for several generations had resided in the neighboring parish of Little Missenden. Nathaniel, born in 1595, married Elizabeth Honor and emigrated to America in 1638. Incidentally, the coat of arms of the Brisco family in England is recorded as

Ar. Three greyhounds courant in pale sa.
Crest. A greyhound courant sa. seizing a hare ppr.
Motto: Grata sume manu.

In those early days in America, and for many years thereafter, the name was through an error, spelled Briscoe or Brisco. Some families in New England still use this spelling, even though Nathaniel spelled his surname as Brisco. He settled in Watertown, Mass., where he was known as "the rich tanner." He became involved in a religious controversy and was fined £10 for a letter he wrote on the subject. Shortly thereafter his barn was burned, and his son Nathaniel was badly mistreated at Harvard College^{in 1639}. He was further saddened by the death of his wife in 1642. Finally, disillusioned with America, he returned to England, leaving his children, already matured, in America.

Nathaniel^{Brisco}, Junior, was born in England about 1625 and came to America with his parents in 1638. In the following year he became usher to Nathaniel Eaton, the first Teaching man of Harvard College, at which time he was termed "a gentleman born." His duties involved running errands and underlating duties which the students should not have to perform. Three days after assuming his duties, Eaton accused him of some dereliction of duty. As punishment Eaton beat him with an oak cudgel, said to have been heavy enough to kill a horse.

 2. Abigail (Nabe) born in 1764, after the exodus to Vermont,
 3. Anna, born in 1765
 4. Nathan, born in 1769.

Such was the situation when the dark clouds of revolution crept over the English American Continent. Residents up and down the Green Mountains were, in the midst of a conformation ^{between} of New Hampshire and New York, both provinces claiming the area ^{to be taken} now known as Vermont. Even so, despite the local disputes, the broader disturbances ^{between the American provinces and the mother country} caused differences in the attitudes in Vermont. While the Arlington settlers, ^{apparently} agreed with the stand of the Green Mountain Boys against the New York officials, they differed in their loyalty to old England.

The Vermonters witnessed the American onslaught on Canada in 1775 with mixed emotions. The failure and the retreat of the Rebel forces by way of Lake Champlain awakened many loyal to action. A number of residents in the Lake Champlain area flocked to the British force at Crown Point. Among these was Jonathan Hawley of Arlington. He remained with the British and joined Burgoyne's Army on its advance toward Albany. He led 50 Vermonters, who served in Captain Adams' Coy of Volunteers. ~~Among~~ Isaac Biscoe and Norris, his fifteen year old son, joined the Hawley party in June of 1777. They served during the battle of Saratoga, and, with other Americans who had joined the British army, they departed for Canada rather than be subjected to abuse at the hands of the Rebels. ^{abuses}

The retreat to Canada saved the Loyalists from punishment to their persons. But what of the wives and children who remained at home?

Isaac Briscoe, the Loyalist, was born in 1739. Although there no record of his birth or parentage, it is almost certain that he was a grandson of Samuel Briscoe and Abigail Olcott. He married, about 1761, Ruth, a daughter of Jehiel Hawley and his wife Sarah Dunning, born about 1744. The Hawleys were living in Newtown a neighboring community of New Milford. In fact some of Jehiel's sons were residing in the latter community, and most likely a son of Nathan, Samuel's third son. The fact that Isaac, the Loyalist, named one of his sons Nathan, would lend support to this belief.

~~In 1764, when the future Vermont was opened for settlement, his wife Sarah and a number of his children and relatives removed to Arlington & Sunderland Towns in Vermont.~~

In the Spring of 1764, when the lands claimed by New Hampshire, later to be known as Vermont, was opened for settlement, Jehiel Hawley, with his wife, a number of their children and relatives removed to the new Towns of Arlington and Sunderland. His daughter Ruth, ^{then pregnant} ~~and~~ her husband Isaac Briscoe and one son Norris, then a toddler, took a part in the migration.

Isaac Briscoe was young and energetic. In the twelve years after the ^{first} settlement he had left his mark on the Town of Arlington. In that short time he had purchased at least ^{several} acres of land in ~~many~~ ^{numerous} parcels, mainly, so it is said, to prevent its purchase by persons favorable to New York Province. In that time he had cleared and had ^{under cultivation} ~~planted~~ ^{more than} acres under cultivation. He became owner ^{of} a grist-mill as well as a ^{saw} ~~grist~~ mill, both in active service. He was also clerk of the Town Council. He was thus one of the leading men of the community.

Isaac Briscoe and his wife Ruth Hawley by 1776 had been blessed with four children, namely,

Samuel

These sons were residing in New Milford in 1723

1639

III

1. Samuel born 9 Sept 1713, married in Dec 1746, Ruth Northrup.

He is recorded as of Woodbridge, New Haven County.

2 John born in 1715, of whom nothing is known = may have died young.

3 Nathan born in 1717, married Ruth — (b 1719)

4 Isaac born 1729/30 was residing in Bridgewater, Conn., in 1772

Nathan Briscoe would appear to be the father of Isaac Briscoe who was born in 1739. If I am right, this was the Isaac Briscoe who married, about 1763, Ruth, a daughter of Jehiel ~~Brisco~~ Hawley of the Newton-New Milford area. He was the only Briscoe who resided in New Milford.

Of these brothers, only one, namely Nathan appears to have resided in New Milford. I therefore, assume that he was the father of a son, Isaac, who was born in 1739 and who married, about 1762, Ruth daughter of Jehiel Hawley and his wife, Sarah Denning.

In 1764 when the family of Jehiel Hawley decided to take up land in the Arlington district of Vermont, Ruth Hawley and her husband, Isaac Briscoe and a son, Norris, accompanied the exodus.

(From this point, for almost a century, the records are hazy)
(and the descent in the Briscoe family appears uncertain)
We know that Nathaniel Briscoe Jr. was one of the first settlers in the ~~formation~~ ^{founded} of Milford Conn. It is also known that this last community ~~was~~ ^{founded} to New Milford about 1702-15

(Loyalists arrived at Machate Sept. 14, 1778 W.R. Freeman)

The students should not have to perform. Three days after assuming his duties, Eaton accused him of neglect. As a result, Eaton, who had been mistreating his students, beat his usher with an oak cudgel, said to have been large enough to kill a horse. While two men in Eaton's employ held the boy, ~~Eaton~~ headmaster beat him over the head and shoulders with two hundred blows. At this Brisco drew a knife from his pocket and attacked one of the men who held him. Believing that he was about to die the boy called on God ^x for protection. At this Eaton again attacked him for taking the name of God in vain. On the following day Eaton contained the magistrates of Brisco for drawing a knife and attacking his assistant.

Full investigation followed the incident and Eaton was fined £100 and ordered to pay Brisco £30 damages. He was also discharged from his duties at Harvard. Eaton's fine was later reduced and Brisco was to receive £10. Eaton left Harvard and after a time returned to England.

Brisco, after his troubles at Harvard, went first to Wethersfield, Mass., and very soon thereafter he accompanied a group from Watertown who founded the settlement of Milford, Conn. ~~He made~~ (his name appears in the ^{first} list of free planters of Milford dated 20 Nov. 1639. Here he remained until his death in 1683. There is no record of his marriage or his offspring, but it is assumed that he was father of Nathaniel and James Brisco who resided in Milford.

The son, Nathaniel, from whom the Loyal Briscos are believed to have descended, married Mary Camp, 20 Nov 1672. He lived in Milford and died there in 1691, leaving 3 sons and 4 daughters. The only son to leave him was Samuel born in 1678. He married 1st Ruth Smith and 2nd Abigail Olcott. Samuel is listed in 1706 as an original purchaser in the Town of New Milford, Conn., to which place he removed shortly thereafter. Samuel, by his second wife, had four sons and a daughter Abigail (nake).

of 1784 with ~~his family~~, the other members of his family.

Isaac Briscoe, a pioneer loyalist-seller in Ernesttown Township in the summer of 1784, was the sixth generation of the Briscoe family in America. The Briscoes were members of an old English family. The family coat of arms, in use in England, was Ar. three greyhounds courant in pale sa.

Crest: A greyhound courant sa. seizing a hare ppr.

Motto: Grata sume manu.

Nathaniel Briscoe, the first of the name in America, ^{although he} was born in Amersham, Buckinghamshire, in 1595, was a member of a family which, for several generations, had resided in the neighboring village of Little Missenden. He married, about 1620, Elizabeth Honor, and in 1638, with his wife and 2 or 3 children, emigrated to America. He settled in Watertown, Mass., in the area west of Boston. Here he became known as the "rich Tanner." ~~Nathaniel~~ In those early, through some error, the name was spelled Briscoe, Briscoe, even though Nathaniel signed it Briscoe. It might be noted that some branches of this family still use the surname spelling of Briscoe.

Nathaniel became involved in a religious controversy and was fined ten pounds because of ~~the~~ a letter which he had written on the subject. Not long after his barn was ^{severely} burned, and his son was mistreated while employed at Harvard University. As a result, he became disillusioned with life in America, and in 1652 he returned to England. (His wife had died in Watertown in 1642, and his children, already matured, elected to remain in America.)

His son, Nathaniel, Jr., was born in England about 1625-29 and accompanied his parents in their settlement in Watertown, Mass. In 1639 he became usher to Nathaniel Eaton, the first ^{treasurer-manager} head of Harvard College. In the same year Eaton at which young Nathaniel was termed 'a gentleman born.' It was his duty to run errands and to perform duties which he became when to Nathaniel Eaton the first teaching-manager of Harvard University. ^{at which time he was termed, a gentleman born} It was his duty to run errands and to do duties which the students should not have to perform. ^{three days} ~~Shortly~~ after assuming these duties Eaton ~~was accused of beating the train~~, accused him of some idly. As a result Eaton beat him with an oak cudgel, said to have been heavy enough to kill a horse. Two men in Eaton's employ, held Briscoe while the headmaster beat him over the head and shoulders two hundred blows. At this Briscoe drew a knife from his pocket and one of the men who held him. Believing that he was about to die Briscoe called on God for protection. At this Eaton again attacked him for taking the name of God in vain. The following day Eaton complained to magistrates of Briscoe's trespass and of drawing a knife

Full investigation followed and Eaton was found guilty of brutality & fined £100 and ^{was found guilty of brutality &} ordered to pay compensation of £30 to Briscoe, and was discharged from his duties at Harvard. The fine was later reduced and Briscoe received £20. Eaton left Harvard and finally returned to England

Later that same year Nathaniel, with other residents of Watertown, ^{participated} took part in the settlement of Milford, Conn. Little is known of Nathaniel, Jr., except that he died in Milford in 1683, leaving a wife and two sons Nathaniel and James

The elder son, Nathaniel remained in Milford, where he married 20 Nov 1672. Mary, daughter of Nicholas Camp. Nathaniel died before 1701 leaving five children, among whom was ^{took part in founding of New Milford}

Samuel, born 4 April 1678. He married 1st 23 Oct 1708 Ruth Smith, who died 17 Nov 1709, giving birth to a daughter Ruth. He married 2dly 3 July 1712. Abigail Oleott, and fathered five additional children

One of these was ~~Nathaniel~~ ^{who} married Ruth — (1718-1806). Although there is no documentary proof, he is believed to be the father of a son Isaac, ^{in New Milford} born 1739, ~~1740~~. He married about 1760, Ruth, daughter of Jehiel Hawley and his wife, Sarah Dunning. Ruth was born in Newton, Conn., about 1744. They continued to reside in New Milford until the Spring of 1764, when they accompanied the Hawleys and other neighboring families in an exodus to Vermont where new land was being opened ^{and} they settled in Arlington Isaac purchased ^{several} parcels of land and soon became the largest land owner in the valley. He also served as town clerk. and owned a saw mill and a ~~grist~~ grist mill. He prospered and had 200 acres of land under cultivation by the onset of the American Revolution.

Isaac remained loyal to British institutions and, with others, including his son horns, then aged 14, joined General Burgoyne's Army in the Summer of 1777. With him were his brother-in-law, Jephtha Hawley, Captain Adams and others, his neighbors in Arlington. Isaac served as a member of Capt. ^X Adams Company of Volunteers in General Burgoyne's Army. When, in October, 1777, this army was about to capitulate at Saratoga, those Americans who had served in the Campaign with Burgoyne, knew or suspected the type of treatment to which they would be subjected. To avoid such treatment many of them fled northward to Canada. Here they remained for the rest of the War. According to the terms of Capitulation they were not to serve again in the War. So, they were employed in various non-combative services, building roads, barracks, etc.

The wives and children who remained in their homes bore the brunt of rebel viciousness. Their property personal and real, suffered from midnight raids and theft. Cattle were indiscriminately removed, machinery disappeared. By the coming Spring these people were in a sad condition. Estates and property of all kinds were confiscated. Such treatment led to appeals to the authorities for protection. An appeal from Mrs. Easter Hawley, wife of Captain Jephtha Hawley, a future settler in Ennistown Vermont, was made to Governor Chittenden of Vermont in the name of women in her deplorable position. Here is the Governor's unpleasant reply (copy letter on page X)

These destitute families were already attempting to go to their husbands in Canada. Mrs Ruth Brisco, with other women, were preparing for such a journey. This document, found in the Vermont records at Montpelier, revealing,

The articles which Mrs. Brisco was allowed to remove with her and her four children in the Spring of 1778, is all that remained of Isaac Brisco's ~~family~~ large estate. His Loyalist Claim procured him to have been the largest landowner in Vermont in 1777. His total landed estate was more than 650 acres in Arlington and Sutherland Towns. Of this 200 acres was under cultivation in addition to which he operated a grist mill, as well as a saw mill. ~~In addition~~, he was the Town Clerk (and ^{it is claimed that he} took the documents with him), when he joined Gen. Burgoyne.

Three ~~children~~ ^{children} of Mrs. Brisco and her four children, ~~Nathan, aged 11, and~~ ^{Nathan, aged 11, and} Habi (Abigail) aged 14, Ann aged 12 and Nathan aged 11, are first recorded in Canada, ^{in 13 Sept 1778} as members of the Loyalist Refugee camp at Machiche (Yamdenke) a short distance west of Three Rivers. Here the family remained ~~until~~ through the year until 1781 when they removed ~~to Upper Canada~~ to the new settlements west of Fort Frontenac. Habi (Abigail), having reached age of 16, was struck off the Subsistence List on 1 August 1781, as was Ann a year later.

When the party of Capt Jephtha Hawley departed to join Gen. Burgoyne at St. Edward, he had a party of men & boys. Among them was his father Jehiel, aged ~~who died before~~ Burgoyne surrendered, as well as his brother-in-law, Isaac Brisco, then aged 38, and the latter's fifteen year old son Norris. This party joined Capt Edmonds' Volunteers, with this unit they were attached ~~until~~ until reorganization of the Loyalist units about 1780. Isaac in this year became a member of the King's Rangers commanded by Maj. Jas Rogers. Norris early in the war was transferred to Capt Wm Norris' company of

JOHN SMITH OF MILFORD, NEW HAVEN COLONY, 1640; AND HIS DESCENDANTS TO THE FIFTH GENERATION.

Compiled by ROBERT ATWATER³ (BASSETT,⁴ CLARK⁵) SMITH,⁶ of New Haven, Conn.

JOHN¹ SMITH [16—–1684], a settler of Milford, Conn., in 1640, is presumed to have been one of several from Hertfordshire who could not leave England in 1637, when the Rev. Peter Prudden and others from that section of England sailed in the company of the Rev. John Davenport, Gov. Theophilus Eaton, Deputy Gov. Stephen Goodyear and other persons from London who came to this country in the ships Hector and Martin [2] in 1637. It is probable he came direct from England to New Haven in one of the three ships which sailed in 1639 to New Haven, viz: the St. Johns, Capt. Russell; the Fair Weather, which reached New Haven before July 28, 1639; and the third ship (name unknown) which arrived soon after, probably bringing the company which settled in Southold, Long Island.—[See Atwater's History of N. H. Colony, pages 162–3.] From the amount of property (£513. 3. 9.) left by him at his death in 1684 (the inventory was taken December, 1684), it is probable that he belonged to a family of some wealth in England. It has been suggested that he may have been one of the Smiths of Haddon Hall, some of whom came to this country. He married Grace Hawley (born —, 16—), who died in 1690. The will of Mrs. Grace Smith is recorded in Vol. 2, page 90, of the New Haven Probate Records. It is dated Nov. 26, 1689. She gives her property of £61. 11. 7. to her four children. There is no inventory to be found. Children:

Dr. "Abel" Gunn's will, dated May 11, 1688, is found on page 7 of Vol. 2, N. H. Prob. Rec.; an inventory is indexed as on page 11, but cannot be found on that page. He gives his property to his wife, Mary Gunn; no children are mentioned.

No will is recorded. The inventory was taken June 13, 1712. The probate records are in Vol. 3, pages 50, 61, 80, 99 and 119. On page 80 is given the division of the property among the children; only John is mentioned; probably the wife and the daughter, Ruth Briscoe, were dead at that time. Ruth's portion of £56 is given to the daughter, Ruth Briscoe; Mercy's portion is given to her husband, Samuel Gunn, who was appointed executor; no mention is made of Ephraim, who did not die until December, 1712. The estate amounted to £226 3. 7. The History of Derby states that Ephraim Smith (1644-1712) died without leaving any children; this is incorrect. Children:

No will or inventory of estate can be found in the New Haven Probate Records. Their tomb-stones can be found in the Milford Cemetery; they are recorded in the "Tomb-stones of Milford." Children:

The will of Edward Camp of Milford, made March 11, 1721, is in Vol. 5 of N. H. Prob. Rec., on pages 56-7; the inventory on page 65, taken March 29, 1721. He gives his property to "wife Elizabeth" (a second wife) and his three children Samuel and John Camp and daughter Sarah Boardman. How many of these children were the children of Mehitabel Smith is not yet known. Child:

5. JOHN³ SMITH (Ephraim² John¹) probably resided in Derby. He married Mary —, who died June 12, 1715. In the will of John Smith of Derby, made Jan. 27, 1746, in N. H. Prob. Rec., Vol. 7, pages 485-8 and 646, are mentioned the four sons given below and "daughter Mary, wife of Ephraim Smith." Inventory taken June 17, 1749. Children:

added all his library,¹ consisting of three hundred and twenty volumes. From some lines in a Latin elegy to the memory of Harvard, written by John Wilson, "it might be inferred as probable, that he left a widow and some other heir, who was not his son. The few facts contained in this brief notice, are all which our histories have preserved to us in relation to this ever honored name."²

The first person who had charge of the institution, was Nathaniel Eaton. He was appointed in 1637; and was intrusted, not only with the education of the students, but with the care of managing the donations and erecting buildings for the College. In 1639, the General Court granted him 500 acres of land, on condition of his continuing his employment for life. He was undoubtedly qualified for the office by his talents and learning; but in other respects he proved himself exceedingly unfit for it. In the same year the grant of land was made to him, he was accused of ill-treating the students, of giving them bad and scanty diet, and exercising inhuman severities towards them; but particularly, of beating his usher, Nathaniel Briscoe, and that, in a most barbarous manner. His conduct, in a word, was so tyrannical and outrageous, that the Court dismissed him from his office, fined him 100 marks (£66. 13s. 4d.), and ordered him to pay £30 to Briscoe. He was then excommunicated by the Church at Cambridge. Soon afterwards he escaped from the colony, went to Virginia, and thence to England, where he lived privately till the restoration of Charles the Second.³ He then conformed to the church of England had received their education, this venerable (may it ever be preserved!) was undoubtedly bestowed. There were probably, at that time, forty or fifty sons of the University of Cambridge, in Old England, — one for every two hundred and fifty inhabitants, — dwelling in the few villages of Massachusetts and Connecticut. The sons of Oxford were not few.

(p. 5.)

4. At the General Court at Boston, one Mr. Nathaniel Eaton, brother to the merchant at Quilipiack, was convicted and censured. The occasion was this: He was a schoolmaster, and had many scholars, the sons of gentlemen and others of note in the country, and had entertained one Nathaniel Briscoe, a gentleman born, to be his usher, and to do some other things for him, which might not be unfit for a scholar. He had not been with him above three days but he fell out with him for a very small occasion, and, with reproachful terms, discharged him, and turned him out of his doors; but, it being then about eight of the clock after the Sabbath, he told him he should stay till next morning, and, some words growing between them, he struck him and pulled him into his house. Briscoe defended himself, and closed with him, and, being parted, he came home and went up to his chamber to lodge there. Mr. Eaton sent for the constable, who advised him first to admonish him, and if he could not, by the power of a master, reform him, then he should complain to the magistrate. But he caused a man to fetch him a cudgel, which was a walnut tree plant, big enough to have killed a horse, and a yard in length, and, taking his two men with him, he went up to Briscoe, and caused his men to hold him till he had given him two hundred stripes about the head and shoulders, &c. and so kept him under blows (with some two or three short intermissions) about the space of two hours, about which time Mr. Shepherd and some others of the town came in at the outcry, and so he gave over. In this distress Briscoe gate out his knife, and struck at the man that held him, but hurt him not. He also fell to prayer, supposing he should have been murdered, and then Mr. Eaton beat him for taking the name of God in vain. After this Mr.

fication; but, in the end, he was convinced, and had freely and fully acknowledged his sin, and that with tears; so as they did hope he had truly repented, and therefore desired of the Court that he might be pardoned, and continued in his employment, alledging such further reasons as they thought fit. After the elders were departed, the Court consulted about it, and sent for him, and there, in the open Court, before a great assembly, he made a very solid, wise, eloquent, and serious (seeming) confession, condemning himself in all the particulars, &c. Whereupon, being put aside, the Court consulted privately about his sentence, and, though many were taken with his confession, and none but had a charitable opinion of it; yet, because of the scandal of religion, and offence which would be given to such as might intend to send their children hither, they all agreed to censure him, and put him from that employment. So, being called in, the Governor, after a short preface, &c. declared the sentence of the Court to this effect, viz. that he should give Briscoe £30, fined 100 marks, and debarred teaching of children within our jurisdiction. A pause being made, and expectation that (according to his former confession) he would have given glory to God, and acknowledged the justice and clemency of the Court, the Governor giving him occasion, by asking him if he had ought to say, he turned away with a discontented look, saying, "If sentence be passed, then it is to no end to speak." Yet the Court remitted his fine to £20, and willed Briscoe to take but £20.

The church at Cambridge, taking notice of these proceedings, intended to deal with him. The pastor moved the Governor, if they might, without offence to the Court, examine other witnesses. His answer was, that the Court would leave them to their own liberty; but he saw not to what end they should do it, seeing there had been five already upon oath, and those whom they should examine should speak without oath, and it was an ordinance of God, that by the mouths of two or three witnesses every matter should be established. But he soon discovered himself; for, ere the church could come to deal with him, he fled to Pascataquack, and, being pursued and apprehended by the Governour there, he again acknowledged his great sin in flying, &c. and promised (as he was a Christian man) he would return with the messengers. But, because his things he carried with him were aboard a bark there, bound to Virginia, he desired leave to go fetch with him (three truss and came to the shore, and the boatsmen to would not go out been drowned, if he returned to out of the harbor complain; and t about £1000, and he had charged others whom he seized, and put his creditors, all of his wife and proceeded and among the Jesuits him from them return to them age, and upward to the shore, and two of them going out of the boat, he caused the boatsmen to put off the boat, and, because the third man would not go out, he turned him into the water, where he had been drowned, if he had not saved himself by swimming. So he returned to the bark, and presently they set sail and went out of the harbour. Being thus gone, his creditors began to complain; and thereupon it was found, that he was run in debt about £1000, and had taken up most of this money upon bills he had charged into England upon his brother's agents, and others whom he had no such relation to. So his estate was seized, and put into Commissioners' hands, to be divided among his creditors, allowing somewhat for the present maintenance of his wife and children. And, being thus gone, the church proceeded and cast him out. He had been sometimes initiated among the Jesuits, and, coming into England, his friends drew him from them, but, it was very probable, he now intended to return to them again, being at this time about thirty years of age, and upwards. — [Ibid. 308–313.]

On the above narrative of Winthrop, his learned and indefatigable editor has furnished the reader with the following curious and interesting note respecting the lady there mentioned, Mrs. Eaton:

An examination of the lady followed, I presume, for the former Secretary of the Commonwealth furnished me a paper, which can hardly refer to any other transaction than this.
Some Overseer of the College, probably, either magistrate or clergyman, wrote it from the confession or dictation of the accused party: "For their breakfast, that it was not so well ordered, the flower not so fine as it might, nor so well boiled or stirred, at all times that it was so, it was my sin of neglect, and want of that care that ought to have been in one that the Lord had intrusted with such a work. Concerning their beef, that was allowed them, as they affirm, which, I confess, had been my duty to have seen they should have had it, and continued to have had it, because it was my husband's command; but truly I must confess, to my shame, I cannot remember that ever they had it, nor that ever it was taken from them. And that they had not so good or so much provision in my husband's absence as presence, I conceive it was, because he would call sometimes for butter or cheese, when I conceived there was no need of it; yet, forasmuch as the scholars did otherways apprehend, I desire to see the evil that was in the carriage of that as well as in the other, and to take shame to myself for it. And that they sent down for more, when they had not enough, and the maid should answer, if they had not, they should not, I must confess, that I have denied them cheese, when they have sent for it, and it have been in the house; for which I shall humbly beg pardon of them, and own the shame, and confess my sin. And for such provoking words, which my servants have given, I cannot own them, but am sorry any such should be given in my house. And for bad fish, that they had it brought to table, I am sorry there was that cause of offence given them. I acknowledge my sin in it. And for their mackerel, brought to them with their guts in them, and goat's dung in their hasty pudding, its utterly unknown to me; but I am much ashamed it should be in the family, and not prevented by myself or servants, and I humbly acknowledge my negligence in it. And that they made their beds at any time, were my straits never so great, I am sorry they were ever put to it. For the Moor, his lying in Samuel Hough's sheet and pillow-bier, it hath a truth in it: he did so one time, and it gave Samuel Hough just cause of offence; and that it was not prevented by my care and watchfulness, I desire [to] take the shame and the sorrow for it. And that they eat the Moor's crusts, and the swine and they had share and share alike, and the Moor to have beer, and they denied it, and if they had not enough, for my maid to answer, they should not, I am an utter stranger to these things, and know not the least footsteps for them so to charge me; and if my servants were guilty of such miscarriages, had the boarders complained of it unto myself, I should have thought it my sin, if I had not sharply reprov'd my servants, and endeavour'd reform. And for bread made of heated, sour meal, although I know of but once that it was so, since I kept house, yet John Wilson affirms it was twice; and I am truly sorry, that any of it was spent amongst them. For beer and bread, that it was denied them by me betwixt meals, truly I do not remember, that ever I did deny it unto them; and John Wilson will affirm, that, generally, the bread and beer was free for the boarders to go unto. And that money was demanded was propounded to the for their pudding being butter or suet, and that England, its true that cause of offence given wanting beer, betwixt I am sorry that it was have it so, were it in

 I am sorry that it was so at any time, and should tremble to

The above is an exact copy of all that is written by that hand; but on the next page is found, in a more difficult, but uncommonly beautiful chirography, "and whereas they say, that sometimes they have sent down for more meat, and it hath been denied, when it have been in the house, I must confess, to my shame, that I have denied them oft, when they have sent for it, and it

In the archives of the State House it is not probable that any document more minute or entertaining can be preserved; nor would this seem of importance and gravity appropriate to this work, were it not connected with the history of the College, and highly illustrative of our author's text. That no complaints against Mrs. Eaton had been brought down from antiquity, when her husband suffered perpetual malediction, is perhaps owing to the gallantry of our fathers. Her accomplishments as a housewife appear equal to the gentleness of the head of the College.
 Her adherence to the religion in which she was educated, might have been as frail as his, had she not been lost on a voyage with her children to Virginia the next year. The commo's of the students have often been matter of complaint, but, I believe, have never since occupied the attention of the government of the State.

Of the two young men referred to by Mrs. Eaton, Wilson was son of the pastor of Boston, graduated in the first class, 1642, and, Mather says, "continued, unto old age, a faithful, painful, useful minister of the gospel" in Medfield. Hough was, probably son of Atherton, the assistant, and was the second minister of Reading. Why he received not the usual degree is unknown.
 See Johnson, lib. II. c. 25. In our Town Records I find, "Mr.
 Samuel Haugh, pastor of the church at Reading, deceased at Mr. Hezekiah Usher's house in Boston, 30th March, 1662."
 The Moor was probably a slave. — [Ibid. pp. 310, 311, note.]

Dear Dr. Burleigh,

I was pleased that at last I could be of some help on the Briscoe genealogy. I notice, by the way, that you spell it Brisco. Through the generations it was spelled both ways, but actually beginning with Biscoe, according to John Challenor Smith. In my notes I have it both ways, but have just noticed that Isaac signed his name Brisco, in copy of a document from the Arlington, Vt. Town Records, Book I, p 111. So I guess I should change everything to that spelling.

Mrs. Carleton Craig was new to me also. She apparently went into the library in Arlington for information on local loyalists and was shown my book by Mr. McCabe--then she wrote me. Has she turned up? I have not heard from her for some time.

My main reason for writing now--and I hope it is not too late!--is to say I hope you are going to the annual UEL memorial service next Sunday in Adolphustown because I am coming down with the Toronto Branch on the bus, and I hope I may have time for a little chat with you. (I don't belong to this Branch, but Audrey Kirk included me, either because of my work in the OGS, or because I belong to the Bay of Quinte UEL, or perhaps just because of my book; I don't know why.)

Often lately I have wished I could ask you questions, of a kind difficult to go into in letters. For instance, I believe I recall that you had some ancestors who were Wildes (wild ancestors?) And I am trying to unravel some of the story of that family now, and especially their relations to the Sexsmith family. If you know anything about this, and will be there on Sunday, I hope I can "pick your brains".

Also, if there were ever a chance for a longer talk, I'd like to ask: if or when you ever dispose of your files of UEL material, might I please have a chance at some of those relating to the families in whom I am especially interested? Not necessarily all the 11 about whom I wrote, but the ones in my own line: Carscallens, Wildes, Shoreys, Briscos, Hawleys, Empeys, at least. Or if you plan to give everything to some archives, might I have a look at some of these first? I know that's asking a lot; and arranging it would be very difficult, considering how busy (and aging!) we both are. But I'd greatly appreciate it if you would turn this over in your mind, and let me know how you feel about it.

One specific question: Can you tell me anything about the wife of Thomas Wilde, father of Andrew, and grandfather of Ann Jane Wilde who married my grandfather, Isaac Newton Carscallen? Her name was Dyer; but that's absolutely all I know.

Hoping to see you Sunday. (But if not, have a letter later)

Sincerely, Eula C. Lapp.

PTO

One of Ann Jane Carscallen's sisters married George Sexsmith, and in fact, I believe both married men of that name! The story I have heard is that one man was adopted son of the other. Do you know anything of this? Have you ever met Dr. Edgar Sexsmith in Toronto? He was for years our family doctor, a very friendly person, always interested in the history on which I was working--until I began asking about Sexsmiths and Wildes. Then, he appeared to clam up. I can tell you the whole story when we meet.

Bridgewater, Ct.

The first man to whom land was surveyed, within the territory now comprised in the town of Bridgewater, Ct., was Mr. Samuel Clark, the merchant of Milford, it being a part of the land to the amount of some hundred acres which Jeremiah Canfield, sen., afterwards purchased, & on which his sons, Zerubbabel, Azariah, Joseph & Jeremiah settled. The first was laid out in the south part of the town, and near it was afterwards located Samuel Brusco's land.

The third man to whom land was surveyed in this part of the town was Samuel Brisco, and the records describe some of these pieces thus:

"52 acres lying in Shepaug Neck between the brooks called Wawecoes Brooks, Dec. 25, 1723

"28 acres in Shepaug Neck by Potatuck Path, and 20 acres in Shepaug Neck, at the south end of Mr. Samuel Clark's land." Jan. 1, 1723-4. On 1726 there was land to him "20 acres on Clapboard Oak Brook."

Brisco, Nathaniel, was of Wallingford in 1690 and Nathaniel was a free planter of Melford and died there in 1683, perhaps father of the first named.

Brisco was ~~at~~ at Boston and Watertown, Mass: the name was later in the Conn. Colony.

Claimt. lived 4 miles from Wits. in Arlington, he ~~was~~ ^{was} always loyal. He was Town Clerk & kept the Records. Claimt. produces affidavit of Ichabod Hawley that when he left the Colonies in 1777, he was possessed of a large House, 2 barns, a good Stock & 200 acres under good improvements, with a good Grist Mill & Saw Mill.

Claimt. is entitled to a share of Josiah Hawley's personal property in right of his wife, Ruth Hawley.

The treatment accorded to Isaac Brisco and his family will serve to illustrate, in a manner, the tragedy of civil war and the price of loyalty.

Isaac Brisco was born in Connecticut in 1739, of an early American family. About 1770, after having been married for several years, he removed with his family to ~~town~~ the New Hampshire Grants (now Vermont), Arlington where he became the first ~~town~~ town clerk. By 1776 he had established himself as one of the largest landowners in the Grants.

In June 1777 he and his elder son, Norris, aged 15, joined General Burgoyne, and after the latter's defeat at Saratoga ^{escaped} the father and son ~~retired~~ to Canada.

The Brisco estate was seized by the virtue of the Confiscation Act of April 1778, and his wife and three children were turned out of their home and ordered to join her husband in Canada. In March 1778 Captain Isaac Clark was authorized to transport Mrs Isaac Brisco, and others, to the enemies lines. According to the Vermont State Papers,

"Mrs Brisco is permitted to carry with her

2 feather beds and bedding for the same.

5 pewter plates

2 ditto platters

2 basins

1 T pot or Tea Kettle

1 small Brass Kettle

1 Brass Skillet

The Bedding to consist of Three Coverlets, One Bed-Quilt, four Blankets and 8 sheets
One chest. for ^{her} Wearing apparel, and her Children and knives and forks

My Order Thomas Chittenden, President -
Mrs Brisco, with two sons aged 14 & 15 and ^{her} ~~son~~ ^{son} aged 17. ~~reached safely~~
more than 680 acres of land 200 acres under improvement.
a comfortable ^{well furnished} house, 2 barns
a gristmill & saw mill
Notes to the amount of £208
Stock consisting of horses, cattle, swine & sheep Farming utensils.

All property was sold ^{by the rebels.} to finance the prosecution of the war. A review shows that only a part of the above property ~~was~~ ^{realized} £4300.

In 1787, the British Commission heard Brisco's claim for losses. At that time he claimed losses in property to the amount of £2046.

He was at first ~~allowed~~ ^{allowed} only £740, which, on appeal, was increased to £1785.

^{Brisco's} By ~~his~~ loyalty the Rebels made £4300 but lost a fine family while he and his family were forced to build a new in a wilderness, carrying with them ^{what they wore on their backs} 13 useless deeds and ~~the~~ worldly goods ~~in~~ without more.

When you have been so helpful to me, I hate to let you down! But I really do not know anything back of Isaac Brisco who lived in Arlington and came from Newtown, Conn. And I have never heard of "the old Brisco Bible".

There are two things I might do in January to help you--or if you are in a hurry, you might do yourself. They will have occurred to you, I expect. One is to write to Newtown, Conn., either to a reference librarian or to the county historian. I do not have names. The other would be to write to Montpelier, Vt. Mrs. Velma Vercoe was the secretary of the Vermont Historical Society with headquarters there, in 1960. But I think I'd write to the State Library, Historical Dept. It was here that I saw the Hawley and Brisco genealogies away back in 1952. I was not sufficiently interested at the time to go back of Isaac Brisco--in fact, at such distance I can't even be sure there was more than a Hawley genealogy.

Across the road from us here lives Bob Hawley, a young man who has become very interested in that family. I have a call in for him (he works in Toronto), because this fall they drove down to Newtown and took pictures of gravestones in the cemetery there. ...He has no pictures of Brisco graves, but he suggests you write Mr. Chas. Hawley, 65 Woolsley Ave., Trumbull, Conn. He is a genealogist. Good luck!

PTO

PS: I have always wondered ^{from 1764} if Isaac Brisco UE was married twice. Ruth Hawley died in 1761 before they came to Vermont. The Hawley genealogy in Montpelier has Ruth Hawley married to Abel Mix of Woodbury, Conn! Either Brisco was her second husband; or he married another Hawley daughter altogether. Nabby Brisco, whose mother is said to have been Ruth Hawley, was born in 1764--suggesting that the mother died in childbirth.

Or (and on second thought I think this is correct) Isaac Brisco married Ruth Hawley, daughter of Jehiel and sister of Jephtha--but the Ruth Hawley mentioned above must have been an earlier generation. (My notes from Montpelier in 1952 are akimpy). Mr. J. Lyons has sent me Hawley papers, mostly about Reuben Hawley. One page is headed "Papers of Reuben's Friends" (11) and includes a quote from Jephtha Hawley's UEL claim. This says: "His sister Ruth is married to Isaac Briscoe in this province in Ernest Township."
